Our Little Silver Superstar Sauda!

Lending a hand

A few weeks ago, I was asked by the Local Authority if I had the capacity to support another local school. I have a brilliant Senior Leadership Team and Governing Body here who support me in the strategic running of the school; because this team is so well-embedded, I felt in a position to be able to offer some of my time to help out in the role of Executive Headteacher. In September therefore, I will be spending 3 days a week at St Elphin's CE Primary School where I will be keeping things moving along until the substantive Headteacher starts in January 2025. During this term-long period, Mrs Bailey will become 'Head of School' here at Bewsey - supported by our Assistant Heads Mrs Stringer and Mrs Hopson. Mrs Mullen will also be supporting her by taking up a 'SENDCo Support' role. Nothing will change for the children whatsoever and in my role as Exec.Head, I will still be fully involved with decision making in all aspects of school life.

This week I would like to introduce you to Sauda who is one of the children in our DP Silver Class. Sauda, who is in Year 1, has a number of very complex medical conditions which affect her heart, brain, gut, muscles and lungs. To look at her you would think that nothing was wrong however, she can become very sick very quickly and needs continuous adult care and oxygen to help her breathe.

Sauda visits Claire House Hospice sometimes so that she can enjoy time with children of her own age, play and have fun. The special care she receives when she stays over means her parents can have some respite and spend a bit of quality time with her brothers. The hospice is a real life-line for them all. In the Spring edition of the hospice's magazine 'Our House', Sauda's father has written a beautifully moving piece about Sauda's condition and what Claire House mean to them. You can read the full article using this link:

Sauda is the most beautiful little girl, she's always happy and chatty and just loves coming to school and being with her classmates in silver – we absolutely adore her! This is why I thought this gorgeous article was well-worth sharing with our wider school community.

Have a lovely weekend everyone, Mrs E Williams
